

BURNS-O'BRIEN FIGHT DOPE

Something About the Two Champs Who Will Work Under Jim Jeffries' Eye Tonight

Jim Jeffries will referee fight tonight that will determine the right to his own title, which he refuses to further defend.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Burns will meet in Los Angeles at nine o'clock to fight twenty rounds for a decision and the whole pugilistic world is watching the affair. Jeffries as the arbiter in the ring lends added interest to the event and the two fighters will divide $12,000 when it is over.

O'Brien has acted in rather a high handed manner over this fight. He considers he is the superior in reputation to Burns, and this is probably so for he has figured in 155 fights to Burns' 45. Both men are in the light heavy weight class and Burns will have the best of weight, scaling close to 175 with O'Brien about 167. O'Brien is the better ring general and Burns can eat punishment and like it as well as any man ever in the ring. O'Brien claims the heavy weight title of England through his defeat of Crisp in 1901 and Burns claims the heavy weight title after Jeffries through his defeat of Hart at Los Angeles last winter. The beating Burns gave that dub earned Burns nothing but advertising as Burns has fought harder men since.

O'Brien compelled a cut of ten per cent of the $12,000 purse to sign articles and the remaining $10,800 will be divided 75 and 25 per cent. The fighters have an interest in the moving pictures to be taken of the fight and most elaborate preparations have been made for these, no less than 90 calcium lights being used.

There will be no shadows in the ring tonight.

The house has been sold out for over three days for the fight has attracted nearly every athletic man in the country who could pay the price. Most of these will put in the intervening weeks at the Ascot races and many will come to Tonopah to see the Ganslerman go in that place.

Returns of the fight will be posted at Dick's place tonight.

These two fighters are the best men in the business today and have both the reputation of cleaner living than any other two men in the ring. Bill Naughton calls this fight Elimination Bout No. 2, classing the Kauffman-Berger fiasco as No. 1. The classification is far fetched. Bill also has broken out into poetry over the refusal of Jeffries to leave his ranch at Burbank and re-enter the ring. Here it is:

The shades of night were falling fast
As thro' the town of Burbank passed
A farmer man who used to fight
But now has found a new delight—
Alfalfa!

Oh stay and box, McCarey moans
We'll give you 30,000 bones.
What other game pays half so well?
The farmer answered with a yell—
Alfalfa!

For me no more the gong's loud clang,
The punch, the purse, the wine, the gang—
Let others settle prize ring rows
And I'll raise breakfast food for cows—
Alfalfa!

THE TURKEY SHOOT

The best way to make money out of turkeys is to tie them on a box and then let men shoot at them with a rifle at a range of 250 yards.

Dick Bright worked that scheme today and one turk earned him $18.75 before the poor turk happened to stick his head up just as Doc Von Radesky fired his rifle and the bullet decapitated the turk.

Half a dozen turkeys met with accidents of this kind during the afternoon so that the shoot was not altogether barren of results. The cheapest way to get a Thanksgiving turkey though is to go and buy him from the butcher man. The ones you shoot at are not over an inch wide and they can dodge a bullet with neatness and despatch every time. When three men shoot at once of course one is bound to hit him. That's how Von Radesky, Bright and a few other fellows got their's. Dr. Berry will swear to his dying day that one old turk bears two wounds, but he was not allowed to examine the bird so his contention goes as it lays.

Mrs. M. Hill died in Tonopah Sunday of pneumonia.

The Blair railroad, which was forced to suspend operations on account of no fuel, has resumed its regular trips.

C. J. Blaisdell arrived from San Francisco this morning and registered at the Hotel Arlington.

W. J. Langevin came in from Sacramento yesterday and is a guest at the Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt P. Smith arrived last evening from Tonopah and will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. M. H. Crisler.

R. Maynard and George Hatch are guests at the Arlington.

E. R. Ray of Mina is listed among the Arlington guests.

E. D. Bock, a Manhattan mining man, is at the Hotel Arlington.

SANTA CLAUS GETS BUSY

Have you written your letter to Santa Claus yet? Do it at once and send it up the chimney for something happened last night.

Santa Claus lost his bearings and made a tentative trip around this city, scaring a few families half to death by his sudden appearance.

Just how he missed his reckoning and came so far ahead of time will never be known, unless it was just because his kind heart would not allow him to remain at home, or his restless disposition drove him out.

He had some excuse for coming out at that, for several of his agents in the city have received a lot of things for Christmas season that are being looked over by the youngsters, and some of the old folks too for that matter.

Santa Claus always sends a lot of things to the stores every year about a month in advance so that the young folks can have a chance to see about what they would like for Christmas. This is a good idea, for it saves him from carrying along a lot of things that might not be wanted when he arrived at this or that house, and his sleigh is just that much lighter on the team, at the same time carrying all that he needs.

This idea is disputed by wise folks, who say that Santa Claus' sleigh is a fairy sleigh, of course it is a fairy sleigh, but that it can never be emptied because Santa Claus' girls, who are fairies and cannot be seen by mortal eyes, keep filling it up as fast as the round little old man empties it. This seems the most probable, and his sending the things to the stores ahead of time is just his own idea to help the boys and girls find just what they want.

Anyway Santa Claus was round last night on a sort of scouting trip and left large juicy presents for some folks. The Appeal man's wife got one and the Appeal man hung it up in a good cool place. When it is stuffed with oysters and dressing and properly baked that large juicy present will be a thing of beauty and a joy for—some time, thanks to the Santa Claus that got lost last night and left it at the door.

It is almost a certainty that Santa Claus is going to be pretty good to every one this year. Tom Farrer says he is, and he has already spread out some samples from fairy land. So his Will Epstein, and as for Charlie Kelly, he will have some of the greatest things you ever saw, ready, as are all the places where Santa Claus sends samples ahead of time.

Of course a good many people buy things and help Santa Claus out that way; but the bossiest and bulliest way to get things Christmas is to wake up in the morning, pile out of bed and find just the thing you wanted with one end poked into your stocking and maybe another present down in the toe of the stocking, or somewhere. So get that letter off quick for Santa Claus already is busy.

THANKSGIVING

The Appeal will not publish Thursday, November 29, Thanksgiving Day

The day set apart by the President of the United States and by the Governor of the State of Nevada for Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings vouchsafed to the people of the country and state, will be generally observed in this city.

Services have been arranged in all the churches and a holiday has been declared by the business houses, all of which will remain closed throughout the day.

The State of Nevada, the County of Ormsby and the City of Carson have many things to be thankful for this year. Unexampled prosperity and good health have been our portion throughout the past year. We have passed through a crisis safely. We have passed through the bad times with safety.

We face another year of great prospective prosperity and good health and for which we should return thanks to the Allwise Providence that directs our lives.

If there is a family in the City of Carson that is unable to celebrate the occasion with a spread and with a table full of good cheer, we do not know where that family is. If such there be, The Appeal will engage to procure the blessings of the year to that family in short order. Public spirit in this city cannot allow one hungry family in the midst of such prosperity as has been ours the past year and the Appeal joins with every other business man in this city in the declaration that tomorrow, Thursday, every mouth should be filled and every heart made glad and full of thanksgiving, this the day of all days for such sentiments.

HUGE SIMPSON RANCH SOLD

The Appeal is able to announce the sale of the George Simpson ranch at Wellington to The Plymouth Company of Tacoma, Wash., the same company that bought the O'Bannon ranch last summer.

This purchase gives the company 6,000 acres of the finest land along the Walker River and unlimited range in the hills and mountains surrounding the ranch. The company bought the O'Bannon ranch after examining it thoroughly and wanted to buy the Simpson ranch at that time but the price was too high.

One of the biggest industries in the state is growing up on the big ranch since the Plymouth company took hold of it. The company intends to go into dairy farming on a large scale, has a creamery now and will extend it in the near future, the company will improve the 6,000 acres of land and will water it in the most scientific and economical manner. The water rights are the best on the river and both ranches will always have a bountiful supply.

Later the company will put in a condensed milk plant and other machinery that will work up the entire dairy product of the whole ranch. A colonization scheme is included in the plans for the future, the valley to be settled with small farms.

Mrs. Fred Seymour departed this morning for Tonopah where she will remain for about two weeks.

Louis Sheldon is still quite a sick young man although he persists in getting down town occasionally.

J. W. O'Bannon, manager, and Ass't Manager Kingsbury, of the O'Bannon ranch at Wellington left this afternoon for the ranch.

BRIEF PARAGRAPHS

The little folks who are going to the prison tomorrow with Miss Martin are requested to meet at the Presbyterian Church at 11:30 o'clock sharp.

Mrs. W. W. McMillen has gone to Oroville, California, with the hope that a lower altitude will be of benefit. Master Clarence Daves accompanied her.

W. E. Casson has opened offices in the Coffin building opposite the State Bank and Trust company. He is interested in mining and other business propositions.

The young people of the Christian Endeavor society will give one of their enjoyable socials in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church Friday evening, November 30. The admission has been fixed at 10 cents and an interesting program will be presented.

On Christmas day the Ely News will branch out as a daily paper and will print a special edition of twenty five thousand copies. It will be a morning paper with full press reports.

Nellie McHenry, the frolicsome comedienne, is now playing Shakespearean characters with the Louis James company, at present producing the "Merry Wives of Windsor." Miss McHenry is making a decided hit in the new line.

Miss Bertha Davis is visiting Mrs. Sparks and incidentally attending all the social functions in Reno. Carson City could not have a handsomer representative and we are all very proud of the private secretary's pretty daughter.

"In the Bishop's Carriage," a dramatization of Mariah Michelson's interesting noel, is meeting with success in California and it is hoped that Manager Meder may be able to secure the attraction for this city. The play will be even more highly appreciated in this region where the originals of so many of the characters lived.

LOS ANGELES WITHOUT GAS AND FUEL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—For the past thirty-six hours Los Angeles has been practically without gas as an indirect result of the cold weather which brought on a largely increased consumption of fuel and an over-taxing of the gas mains which proved too small to accommodate the demands and the final breaking down of a large part of the machinery in the gas plant.

Judge Langan was a visitor last evening from Virginia City.

BRAVE YOUNG MEN RESCUED TWO CADETS

RENO, Nov. 28.—Monday afternoon the college folks enjoyed excellent skating on the pond in the rear of Manzanita hall, but about 6 o'clock in the evening an accident occurred which brought the fun to a sudden close and nearly ended in the death of Charles Sykes and "Scotty" Hart, two students in the college. The young men were daring one another to venture onto the weak ice at one end of the pond, and at last both went through and were struggling in the icy water before their comrades noticed them.

Lesser Summerfield and Frank Hopkins were first to notice the cadets in their perilous position and immediately hurried to their rescue. They took off their coats and tying them together threw one end to the half frozen boys. In this way they succeeded in pulling them both from danger onto the strong ice. They were then taken to Lincoln hall, where they were furnished with hot drinks and dry clothing.
